Get ready for a serious case of happy feet! We just received your order, and are running around like sugared-up two-year-olds just unbuckled from their car seats to get your product(s) all boxed up for shipment right to you. In celebration of your new purchase, our entire shipping department here at Rack Room Shoes spontaneously linked arms, kicked up our heels, and did a somewhat off-kilter can-can dance that would make a choreographer change careers. As soon as Gert catches her breath and gets her shoes back on, we'll send you a confirmation e-mail letting you know the status and delivery date of your order. Hope you have "more fun per foot" in your new Rack Room Shoes purchase - look forward to hearing from you again soon.
